Guidelines

This set has been created to accompany the Education in a digital society module.

These flashcards can be used as conversation or story triggers. They can be used with students and staff around digital technologies in learning and teaching in specific contexts personal/professional contexts.

Students/Educators could select a specific flashcard, make some notes, come up with questions and then discuss.

Alternatively, students could work in small groups and select a flashcard and critically and creatively engage with it.

Educators and students could also engage with the flashcards collaboratively.

New visuals aligned to the units of this module could be created as an extension of the above engagement activities.

Feel free to print these on card. Size A5 or A4 depending on your need. With a large group, you may wish to use multiple sets.
